

sermonnotes

Moving into Our Future

To experience a better future, or a different future, we have to be willing to let go of where we are so that we can embrace and experience the future God has for us. If you live in the past, you die to the future.

One of the greatest limitations to our future is complacency. We can become comfortable and complacent where we are and not be willing to step out in faith to experience what could be. God is not small, but we make Him small when we are not willing to move.

Joshua 3:1–8

Experiencing a Greater Future

1. There is a time to pray and a time to plan, but then we must be willing to _____. Joshua 3:3
 - We should seek the heart of God so that we know the will of God, but we can't stop there. We must be willing to walk in the ways of God.
2. We have to be willing to step into the _____, knowing we have the help of the One who knows. Joshua 3:4

- We would like to know all the details, have all the answers, and all the provision; but that is seldom the situation.
3. _____ precedes experiencing God's power and provision. Joshua 3:5
 - The act of consecration reveals the principle that God will not act powerfully on behalf of His people if they are not inwardly clean and aligned to His will.
 4. Follow God's direction and step out of your _____ zone into the _____ zone. Joshua 3:8
 - Sometimes you have to get in the water before the miracle happens. If you just play it safe, and stay dry, you will miss much of the future God has for you.

Our God is the God who parts the Red Sea and dries up the Jordan so His people can move into a greater future. Don't make _____.

Answers: move; unknown; Preparation; comfort, faith; God, small

Want to listen again or share with a friend?
Sermon podcasts are available at gracecovenant.org or on our grace app.